

Endeavor Hall News

November 2016

Endeavor Hall serves students desiring to acquire superior writing skills in the context of an academically challenging curriculum in preparation for collegiate studies and careers

Director's Corner

We are excited to be reading The 7 Habits of Happy Kids by Sean Covey and Stacy Curtis during the announcements every morning.

Habit 1: Be Proactive- You're in charge of yourself

- I have a "can do" attitude and always try my best at everything I do
- I follow directions and do the right things without being asked even when nobody is looking.
- I choose my actions, attitudes, and moods and don't blame others for my wrongdoing

Habit 2: Begin with the end on mind- Have a plan

- I plan ahead and set goals for myself
- I am prepared at all times
- I think about how the choices I make now will affect my future
- I think about the positive or negative consequences of my actions before I act

Wonder!

The School Counselor is teaching the Core Virtue of Wonder this month.

Wonder is defined as the first step on the path to knowledge. During this lesson, we are talking about some of the "wonders" in our local community and state, as well as the wonders of the world throughout time, both Ancient, modern day and natural. In this discussion student analyze some of the innate passions they have for learning certain things.

Sweet Application

By Cyndi Goehring

In Personal Finance, we discussed the basics of economics, including supply and demand. After that, we watched Willy Wonka and the Chocolate Factory. The assignment was to write a paragraph explaining how Veruca Salt could be used as an example of supply and demand. Here are two of our paragraphs:

Veruca Salt is supply and demand because she wants something and her foolish father gives her whatever she wants. In her temper tantrum song, she states she wants the world and all kinds of other stuff and thinks she deserves it. There's no way that her father or any other person could get her all the stuff she wants. The whole world would go bankrupt if they tried.

- Stasia J.

Veruca Salt is a greedy little girl who gets whatever she wants whenever she wants. She is showing supply and demand by making every person in her family's company look for golden tickets. Her demand was very high because of her greedy habit. Her supply was also very high because her family is very rich and can buy lots of Wonka bars. There would not be enough goods in this world if she got all of her desires because she wants the whole world to herself.

Friends, Romans, Countrymen...

In art class, 6th Grade is learning about Ancient Greek and Roman Art and are teaching one another in dramatic theater performance!

6th graders had a blast in their toga costumes! We've only done two out of the three scenes so far. The final scene has an arrogant Roman Emperor and a depressed gladiator prisoner; we'll be sure take lots of pictures, its sure to be hilarious!

Mrs. Jack is a NOUN!

By Angie Magnavito

Here is a project some of my classes in 1st -2nd grade have been working on for Language Arts. We are working on identifying nouns and then writing basic sentences using the nouns while also focusing on punctuation. We highlighted the nouns in the sentences and also drew pictorial representations of the sentence
