

ENDEAVOR HALL NEWSLETTER

September 2019

Principal's Message

We are super excited to welcome you all to Endeavor Hall. We have great teachers, amazing families, and incredible students. Thank you so much for being a part of our family. While academic achievement and success will always be our main priority, we recognize the importance of creating strong relationships and connections between ourselves and our community.

"Relationships between students, teachers, and homes will always be the foundation of successful learning."

We invite you to be a part of creating these strong relationships. Please do not hesitate to become involved with your child's learning. Feel free to pop in and spend some time in the classroom, join your child for lunch, come and volunteer, read with your child, and reach out to your child's teacher. We cannot do this without you. We value you and want you to be a partner in your child's education.

Here are some "tips" that will help build the connection between school and home:

1. Ask your student to tell you one thing they learned each day.
2. Have high expectations of your students. They can do hard and amazing things.
3. Allow your students to fail. Then encourage them to "fix" their mistakes.
4. Read to your students and have them read to you.
5. Monitor your student's progress.
6. Reach out to teachers when you have concerns.

We look forward to an awesome year.

New Teachers at Endeavor Hall

Karen Mangome (3rd Grade Teacher)

Hello, my name is Mrs. Mangome and I'm really excited to be a 3rd-grade teacher at Endeavor Hall. This is my sixth year of teaching, but it's my 12th year working in the schools. I was born and raised in Utah. I went to Southern Utah University for my bachelor's of science for teaching. I have two kids and a husband. My kids are an 11-month-old daughter and a 5-year-old boy. A few of my favorite activities include hiking, mountains, climbing, swimming, and any outdoor activity. My favorite subjects are math and science. I love getting to know my students and seeing them succeed or finally get the concept that they are working on.

Jessica Patton (Kindergarten Teacher)

Hello Families! My name is Ms. Patton, and it has been an exciting experience joining the Endeavor Hall team. I have been thrilled to meet many of my students and look forward to Kindergarten starting August 26. I am originally from Buffalo, NY and came to Utah to work on my teaching degree. While working on my teaching degree, I have gained classroom experience as a Special Education Paraprofessional since 2015. This will be my first classroom since graduating in May 2019. I am excited to begin my next adventure growing with my students, and building foundations that promote a positive learning environment.

Sheri Stone-Booth (1st Grade Teacher)

My name is Miss Stone-Booth and I am so thrilled and honored to join the Endeavor Hall family. Teaching these first few days has already been so great! I've just completed my fourth year of teaching and am excited to come back to first grade. I grew up in Washington state and have lived in Utah for four years now. Have you seen some of these hiking trails? They're amazing! My favorite subjects to teach are Language Arts and Mathematics and I love seeing my students have that "light bulb" moment in the middle of a lesson! How awesome my job is!!!
